(Garland sinclair)
died at 20 april / 4th/18 3:30 am Shot dead in the back alley found dead messenger and contract killer by vatican swindler
I was gambling earlier in the day i was on a big winning streak for 4 weeks in a row then nightfall came i was on the clock i got up collected my winnings in my bag i left the pub then I was walking the alleyways of london england looking for the man to be believed as jack the ripper i was 18 he was wanted dead or alive i found the man they say was to be jack the ripper he didn't see me or hear me coming i raise my gun to take him out bang he fell to the ground i ran to the vatican but i wasn't moving something was stopping me it was rippers cold dead hand holding onto my leg i tried to get away but i looked down blood soaked the ground around us i fell and it was as though i was being pulled in by some unseen force it was rippers ghost but this time there was a hellhound with him the ground gave away and a endless pit of darkness was below we fall in i fought the hellhound and the ghost of jack the ripper we all got lost in the vast void then i seen a flash of white then i was someone else the hellhound followed me to the next life jacks ghost was lost in the streams of time

(Leif)
(Leif Ericson)10th bc well most of us know the life and story of leif ericson but what you don't know is he had a wife and kids that were forgotten and will never be found also what he did as a kid 970 century bc
I'm a reincarnation of Leif
Yes i was born 970 bc
I was a good strong lad with my sister and brothers my mother i don't remember but my brothers and i would run all over the village sword fighting with sticks as if they were swords
Leif: Ahh there got ya Freydís

Freydis: ouch Leif that hurt Leif: sorry sister i help her up we walk to our uncles since our father was banished norway cause of a war crime he was accused of several years pass my sister is the right age to marry

she gets pregnant at a young age of 14 and leaves the village my brothers and i have a light on the town with our friends we buy a wolf that a merchant was selling outside i made is my pet and friend then the next day we set voyage for a new world and land the cherokee was on the shore line waiting for us since our people gave them spices ages before when they lived close to greenland i Leif was 19 i fell in love with the chef's daughter at first sight my wolf at my side she smiled at my wolf then at me i looked at my wolf then her i let my wolf go it walked up to her and licked her leg she pet it and the seemed to know each other the wolf licked her face and nose we all smiled and laughed as she laughed her father took us to their village to smoke from the peace pipe we hit it off very well we shared war stories the daughter and i made eye contact she left the hut i followed we went into the woods she pinned me against a tree she kissed me we went back to the village and hand in hand the chef was ok with us being together and gave me his blessing to marry his daughter some time went by we started a family and our kids seemed to grow up fast. one day our kids were playing in the forest then an enemy village attacked us all and set the forest ablaze and my wife was attacked i found her ran to her pick her up and held her she cried and said sorry my love i lost the children i said its ok save your breath i finished her off and closed her eyes and buried her on the hill sine the water was miles away over the hill i cried as rage filled my veins i stormed towards the forest to find my find my kids they were all burned from the forest fire and dead i picked them up and buried them next to their mother then set back to the forest we had 4 kids but only 3 were found i killed all the men that attacked the village but got shot full of arrows and i crawled back to were my family was buried as i cried feeling weak from blood lose i fell were they laid my blood soaked the ground

(Albert Einstein)

Albert Einstein was a German-born theoretical physicist and mathematician who developed the theory of relativity and made significant contributions to quantum mechanics. His mass–energy equivalence formula, E = mc², is considered “the world's most famous equation”. Einstein's theories and vision of physics changed how people understand the universe. Although controversial at the time, his work overturned Newtonian gravitational theory.

(Present day)
had a good life all the way till my dad died and i was the same never since i now struggle a bit to make friends cause my heart was broken when my dad and bro died i have some mental problems but none of us are any better then the next we are all human i know i may not be the best but i do try i don't like drama and my body cant super intense stress but it can handle a great deal for the right people my heart is riddled with death and lose and so is my soul but i don't let it pull me under i get money on disability but thats cause the mental things i have as well as my dads heart problem and i have seizures but i have all my problems managed enough to were they are little of a problem i just want to settle down and grow old cause all my life i seen so much and been hurt so much physically, mentally and emotionally and lost so many i have had so many people i loved but when i meet one person i try to make them happy no matter if they are friends family or significant other i made some dumb choices in life but i can say i had a long life
